

Dear Parent,

I am a children's author and am very excited to be visiting your child's school on Friday to share my book with the Prince of Wales children.

For your information, I am a retired Early Years Head Teacher and, since retiring 3 years ago, have written my first children's book, which I have enjoyed reading in many local schools around Weymouth, and further afield in Dorset. It is called 'Surprise in the Old School Bus' and is aimed at 4 - 7 year olds, but I also talk to older children about the process of writing a book.

I hope your child will enjoy the book as much as many others have and, if he / she would like a personally signed copy for £4, I will be attending the School Fayre on Saturday so please come and find me and my book on a stall there. (If you are not attending the Fayre, please ask in the school office if you would like a book).

I look forward to meeting you and your children.

Regards,

Jane Hurdiss
