

THE PRINCE OF WALES SCHOOL COMMUNITY LECTURE

Gardens of WW1 with Christine Stones

7:00 PM - Thursday 7th February 2019

Trench Gardens, Horticultural Shows in POW Camps, Vegetable Growing at Versailles... this talk covers all aspects of gardening during the Great War and the part played by school gardens to help with the food shortages in the war.

About Christine: Christine is Chairman of the Dorset Gardens Trust School Gardens Committee. Christine has a background of broadcasting having worked for the BBC as a producer and a presenter before turning to the academic world. In 2004 she gained the Bristol University Masters degree with Commendation in Garden History, with a dissertation on Harold Peto. She has visited and recorded over 300 gardens around the world.

Tickets: £5.00 per ticket, all funds raised will be donated to The Prince of Wales School to support the development of their Community Wildlife Garden. Tickets can be purchased via the School Office or online via EventBrite at - <http://pow-tc.eventbrite.com>.